

The General Data Protection Regulation Goes Beyond Your Organization

Satisfy Your Third-Party GDPR Requirements

Benefits of Working with Optiv

GDPR Strategy: Optiv can help you plan, build and run your GDPR initiatives, from our GDPR strategic readiness review to the tactical execution of third-party requirements, including people, process and technology.

GDPR Third-Party Awareness

Assessment: Simply launch the Evantix GDPR awareness assessment to your vendor ecosystem to determine current GDPR status of each vendor and establish action plan moving forward.

Scale Compliance: Within Optiv Evantix, you can inventory and assess an unlimited number of third parties against GDPR, as well as launch questionnaires directly to your third parties. Optiv can also further scale your program with our TPRM-as-a-Service offering.

Validation and Reporting: Optiv Evantix helps organizations validate, review, raise issues and track actions and remediation within the platform. Remove data into accurate, timely and actionable decisions.

Monitoring and Reporting: The dashboard view and detailed operational reports provide an enterprise view of risk and evidence of consistent methodology.

Challenge

The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) will go into effect in May 2018. Though global organizations are required to demonstrate compliance of their security and privacy practices, it goes beyond just the internal organization. The GDPR regulation also extends to the third-party vendors of GDPR applicable companies. Organizations can have hundreds to thousands of relevant third parties. While you are working diligently to help ensure your organization is compliant with GDPR, how will you assess, validate and remediate your third parties?

Solution

Preparing for GDPR compliance requires people, process and technology. Optiv is ideally positioned to assist with your GDPR requirements from inception to execution. Optiv Evantix is a SaaS-based solution that helps our clients scale compliance requirements across their vendor ecosystem.

Using our collaboration platform, Optiv's GDPR awareness assessment helps you understand if your third parties are aware of the new regulation and their high-level progress toward compliance. Once Evantix identifies compliance status, Optiv helps operationalize security framework assessments, such as GDPR, and tracks compliance with the regulation. Through Optiv's third-party risk management-as-a-Service, we can assist and monitor your third parties as they work toward GDPR compliance, freeing up your team to work on higher-value activities. As an added benefit, Optiv Evantix can also assist your organization in tracking its internal GDPR requirements and progress.
